

Michael Lenahan is a Houston-based pianist. He received his bachelor's degree in piano performance from The Juilliard School where he studied with Jerome Lowenthal and is currently studying with Dr. Robert Roux working towards his master's degree at Rice University. His other teachers include Anita Wilkin, Dr. Robert Saterlee, and Dr. Logan Skelton.

Michael has been teaching piano since he was 16 years old. He was secondary piano faculty at The Juilliard school from 2014-2016 and also served as a piano teacher in Juilliard's Music Advancement Program. Besides, he was an Ear Training teaching fellow at Juilliard and has also served as a judge in competitions, most notably the International Music Arts Society in the NYC tristate area for 4 years in a row. Currently, Michael is a piano teacher to non-majors students at Rice University.
